Wine & Other Beverages

Our wine curation focuses on the exploration of not only the wines themselves, but geography, history, culture, geology, chemistry and philosophy.

We seek out bottles that were touched by the least amount of hands, from vigneron to distributors and us, from vineyards grown ethically and sustainably without the use of chemicals.

While there were many iterations of the structure of this list, we hope this very one brings you clarity, organized by countries, regions and varieties.

We try to move across the globe with purpose, not only north to south and east to west, but rather, like a continuum.

We focus on styles that pair with our food, lighter, brighter, zip-pier wines, however, there is a little bit of everything for those of you who like bigger and bolder expressions.

Champagne

We love to offer the same ritual suggested by Cedric Bouchard and many of the other Growers.

An 'aeration' in larger glasses, such as those typically used for the service of white or red Burgundy.

This little ritual completes the grower-producer experience. The wines will evolve in the glass over the course of your meal.

The initial austerity and tightness, often due to zero or negligible dosage (the final 'sweetening' of traditional Champagne, found on the below scale, is softened by this exposure to air).

Of course, if your preference is for a traditional flute and for retention of the sparkle, we will happily oblige!
